The Faces Of Dramatic Expressions

The Drama Department this year was headed by Miss Kittredge. The classes were combination first and second year, second and third year. With an emphasis on individual achievement, each student learned to express total empathy with each character role. Emotions such as hate, disgust, desire, love, and sadness were developed extensively through many exercises. These pictures exemplify such drills.

Work Experience

Madison students have many job opportunities available to them in the Work Experience Program. With the aid of Mrs. Cohen, our Career Counselor, many students have held rewarding jobs. From teaching students in local elementary schools to performing the duties of a secretary, students have earned school credit and valuable experience.

Mrs. Cohen

Many girls at Madison take advantage of learning how to sew, cook, and manage a household through our Home Economics Department.

Many foreign languages are offered at Madison including French, German, Latin, and Spanish. Several classes are privileged with the use of the laboratory for oral practice. The students not only learn to read and write the language, they also learn the culture and the history of the native country of the language they are studying.

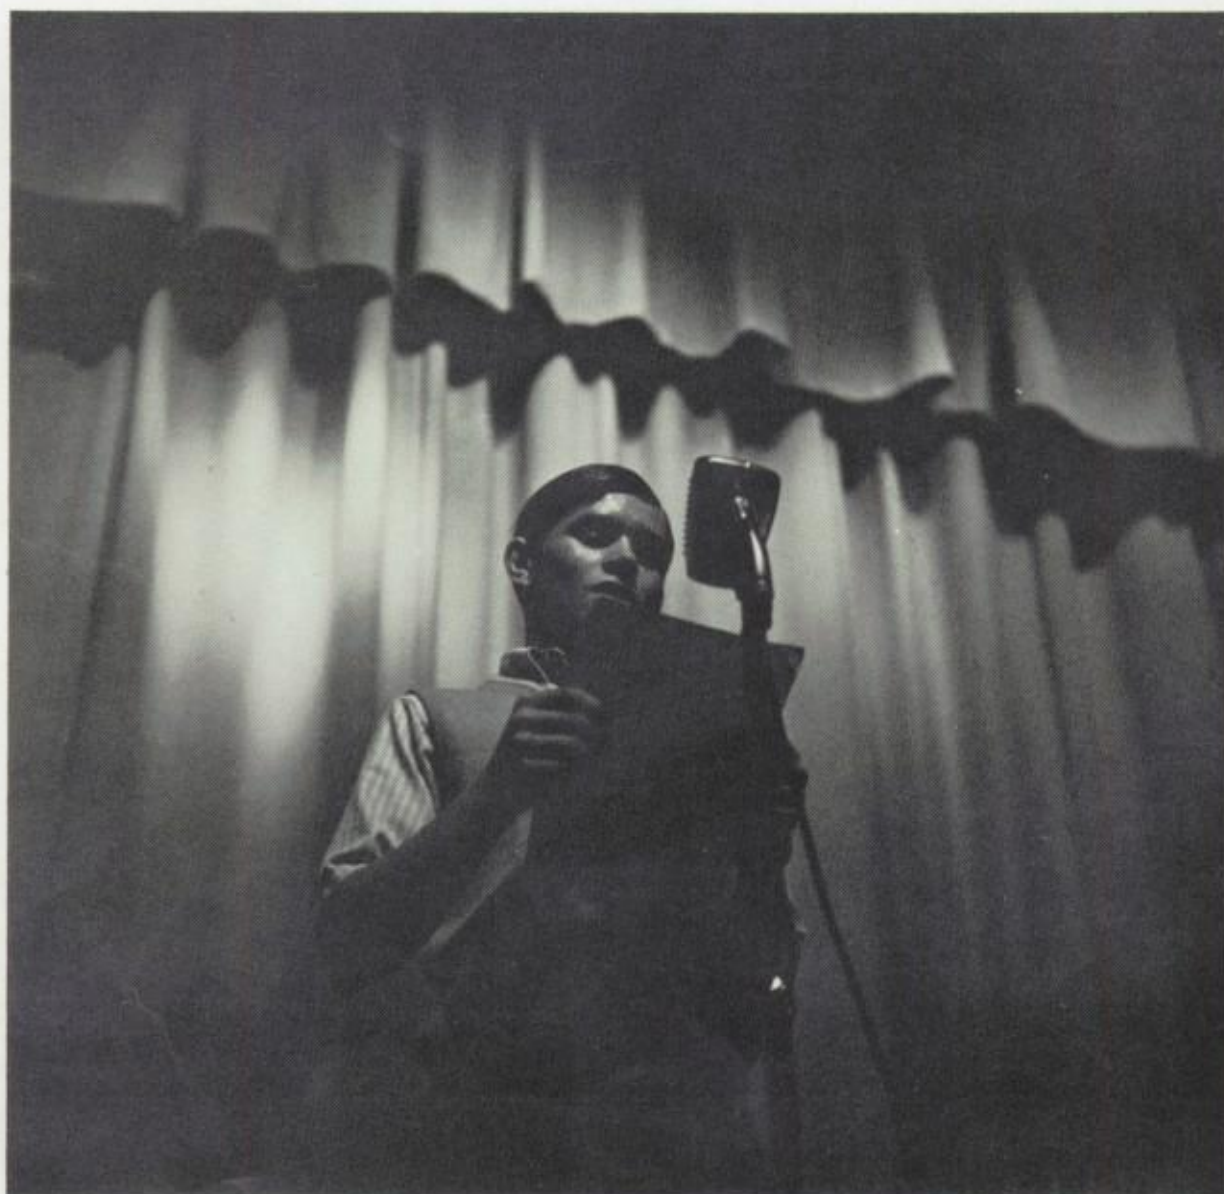

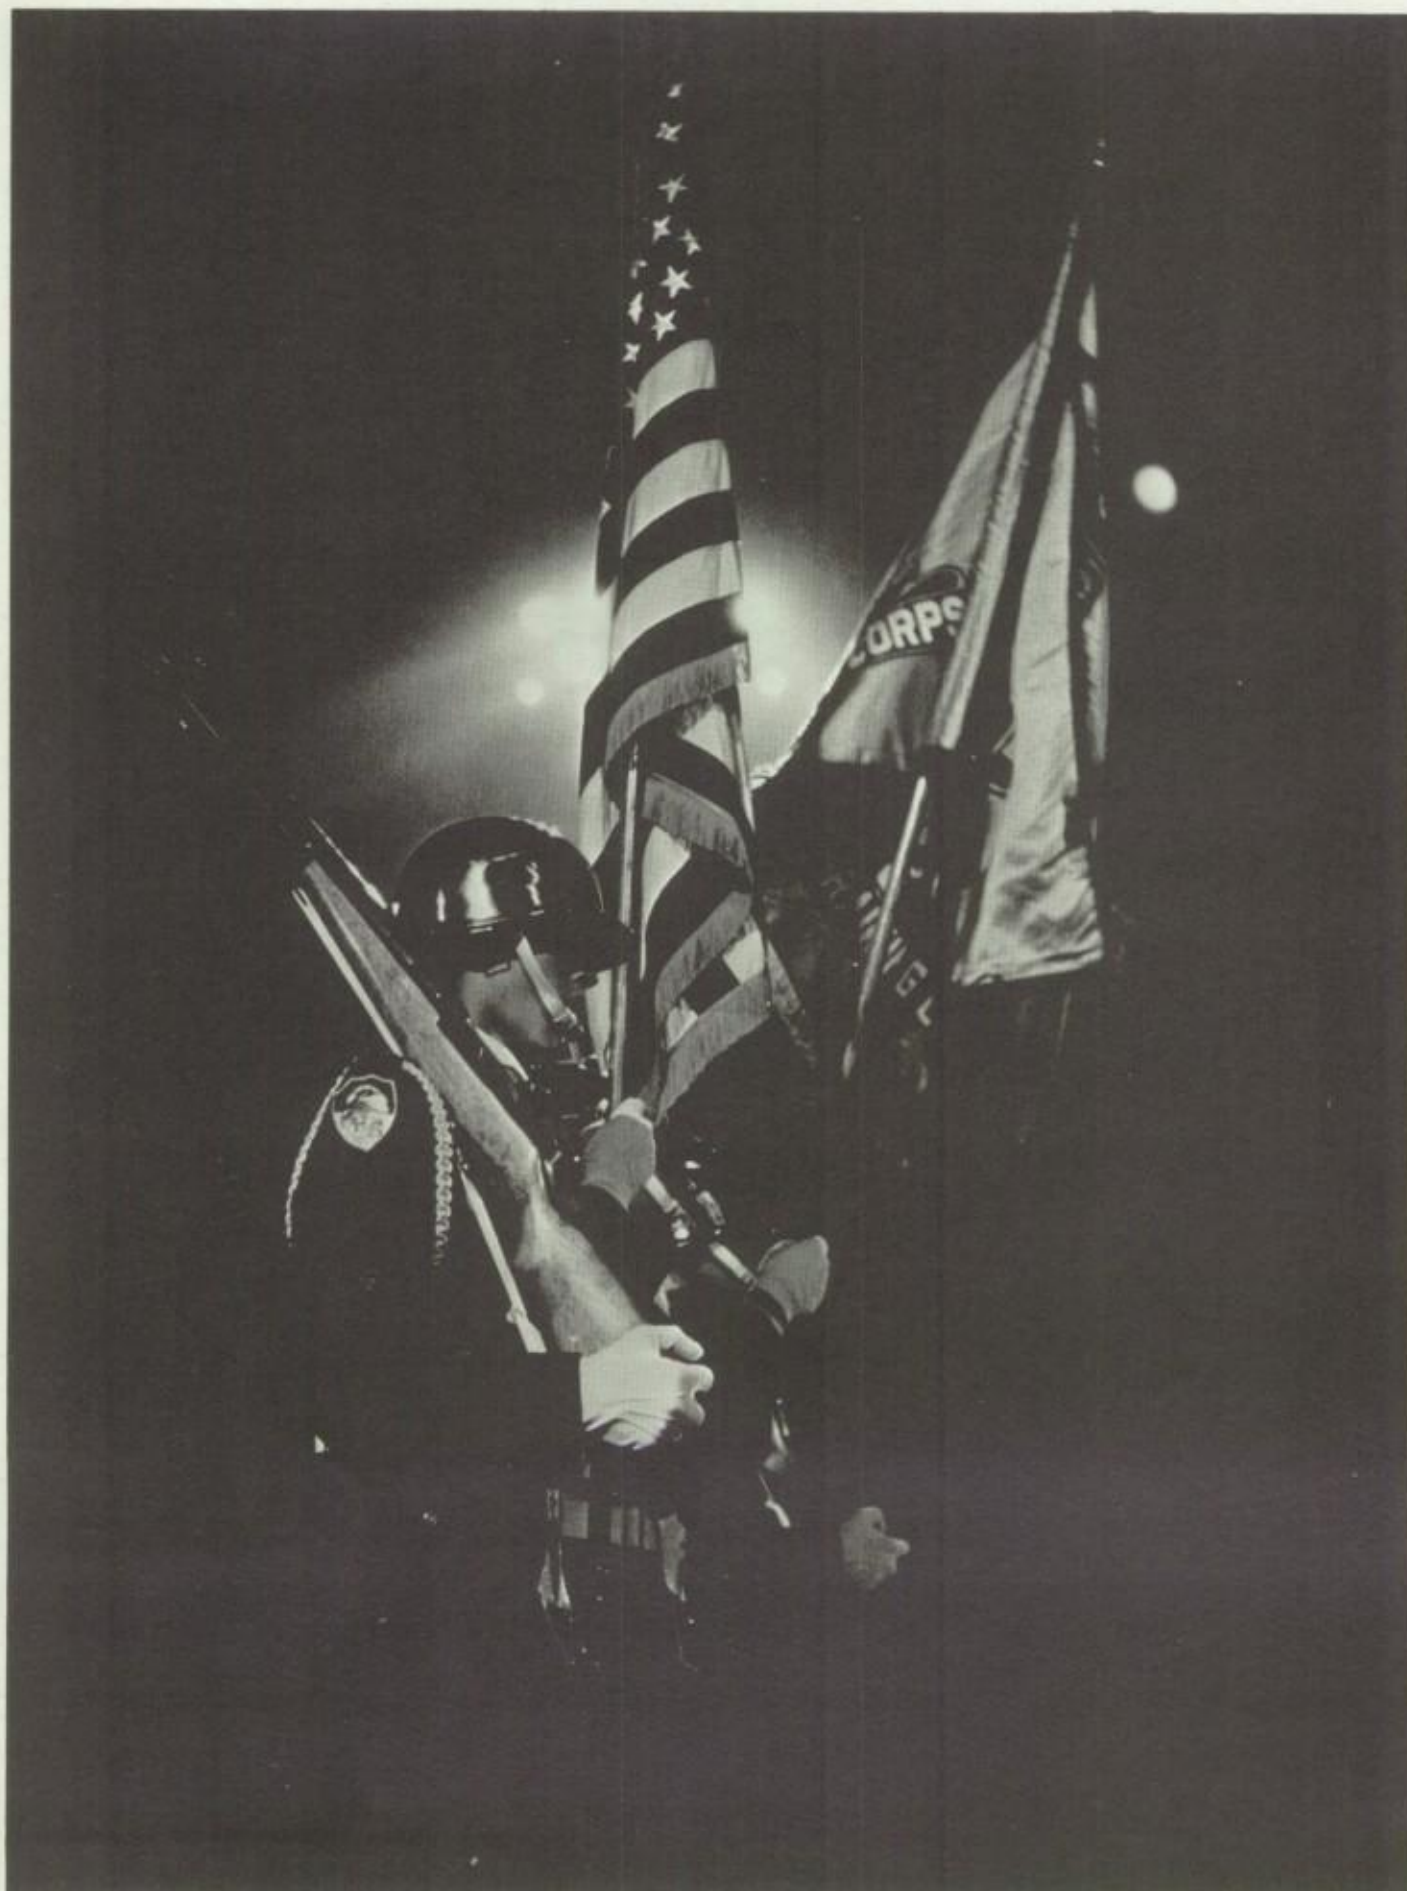

Mr. Steinmetz

The Many Expressions Of Speech

Speech is a course that explores the basic skills of public speaking. The students learn to construct well written speeches and the correct use of voice projection and eye contact. Advanced classes also include dramatic performances.

Humanities

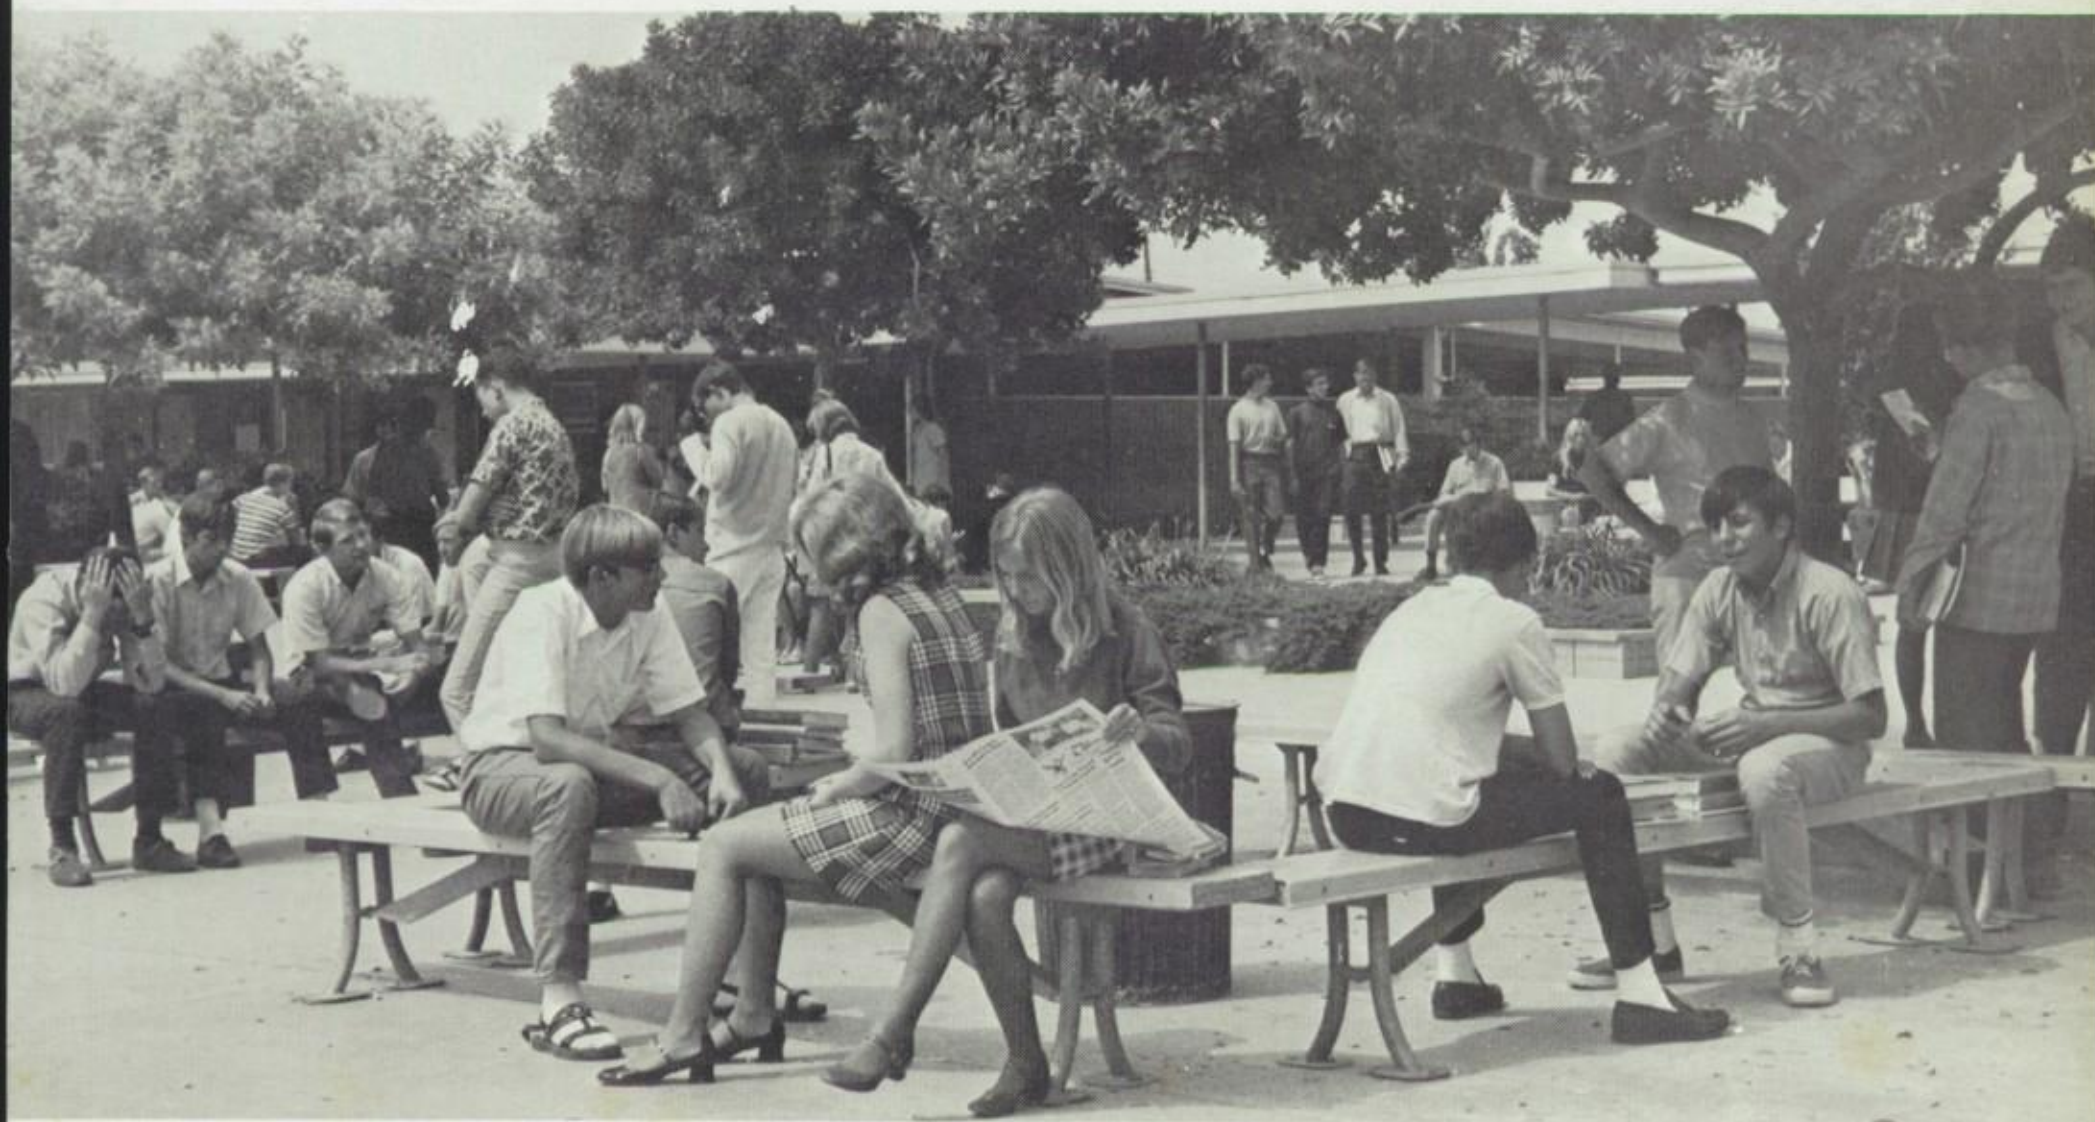

"Survival: Man's Duty to Mankind" is the theme of this year's Humanities project. This project consists of a series of lectures with the intended purpose of relating the student with the social, religious, and political aspects of the world. One of the distinguished speakers was J. B. Askew, Director of the Health Department in San Diego. Pictured above are David Grippen and Jose Besserd speaking on a very controversial subject, "Black and Brown." On the topic, "Religions of the West," three different speakers were invited and presented a very informed assembly. The speakers were Rabbi Maurice Idell, Father Neal Dolor, and Reverend Marvin Hiles.

One of the major activities of the Madison Lettermen's Club this year was their visit to the Marine Corp Recruit Depot. Upon arrival, the club watched a group of men receive their classification as Marines. The members had lunch in the mess hall and then went to the swimming pool where they were instructed in survival at sea. Before leaving MCRD, the Lettermen also observed men being trained to fight in close combat. In addition to planning their own activities, the Lettermen have served Madison by selling pep ribbons and promoting school spirit.

Key Club

The Key Club, a select group of boys chosen for their involvement in school clubs and sports, has had another active year. Their officers, Brian Ruark, Jack Acomb, Bob Johnson, Dave Barbrick and their sponsor, Mr. Quon, have directed many successful activities. The Key Club took the sons of some prisoners of war to a hockey game, to a basketball game and also took them on an outing to the mountains. In addition to this activity the club sponsored a Christmas food drive and the "Toys for Tots" drive.

Electronics Club

Operating and maintaining ham radio equipment is the goal of the Electronics Club, sponsored by Mr. Pierce. The Metal Club gives students extra opportunities to construct trail bikes, auto jack stands and other specialized projects. Mr. Fuhr directs the efforts of the members.

Madison's Drama Club assembles students who are interested in acting and are seeking experience in that field. With Miss Kittredge as their sponsor, they learn the basics of dramatics by taking part in various plays.

Madleens

The function of the Madleens is to help and serve others. They ushered at the Music Man and other school activities. Members of this honorary service organization are chosen by an accumulation of service points and must maintain a 3.5 grade average. The Madleens are a sincere and dedicated group, devoting many hours to the improvement of our school. Under the sponsorship of Miss Theodore, these girls have been a great asset to Madison this year.

Varsity wrestling has been one of Madison's most successful sports. Under the watchful eye of Coach Roeder, the varsity team ranked high in county ratings. This year's wrestling team again displayed the skill and conditioning necessary for a winning team.

JV Wrestling

JV grapplers were hampered by a slow start this year. Nevertheless, by the time the season began, Coach Steve Haiman had the JV wrestlers in good shape.

Opposing teams found Madison with an improved team this year. Defense provided the key factor that enabled our team to display winning progress. Kearny, averaging 38 points a game, was held to a solitary touchdown by the rugged Madison defense.

Drill Team

Nearly eighty girls in new uniforms of blue and silver marched at Madison's home games this year. Each half-time show required hours of practice during lunches, after school, the usual early morning rehearsals. Madison's drill team also displayed their talents at community events and parades, such as the annual Shriner's Game and the Autumn Band Review.

Marching Band

Shortly after sunrise, the sounds of Madison's marching band could be heard drifting through the early morning fog. Nearly every morning during the football season, it was "up with the sun" for Director Mr. Wolfe, Drum Major Paul Collier and the sixty-six band members. The marching Warhawks proudly represented Madison at the Autumn Band Review, in the La Jolla Christmas parade and at the Shriners' game. In combination with the drill team, the band put in long, tiring hours of practice to present such entertaining half-time shows as "A Salute to Walt Disney" and "The Winter Holidays." After each week of half-time rehearsals, long after sunset, the band's work ended as they stood on our home field playing.

Homecoming 1969 at Madison was held on a clear night after a week of rain. The crowds were a mixture of old and new faces, all full of pep and spirit. During halftime, after a week of suspense, Tomi Bothast was honored as queen. Last year's queen, Sally Lofgren, crowned Tomi. Diana Christopher, Nancy Howard, Cathy Stiles, Sally Strand, and Pam Weaver were members of Tomi's court. Again, like last year, our football team played a hard fought game against Mission Bay.

Homecoming 1969 & Alumni Dance

Even though Madison lost, everyone enjoyed seeing the team put up a fine battle. The second annual Alumni Dance was held at the Kearny Mesa Armory after the game. Both Madison students and Alumni enjoyed getting together again for another great Homecoming evening.

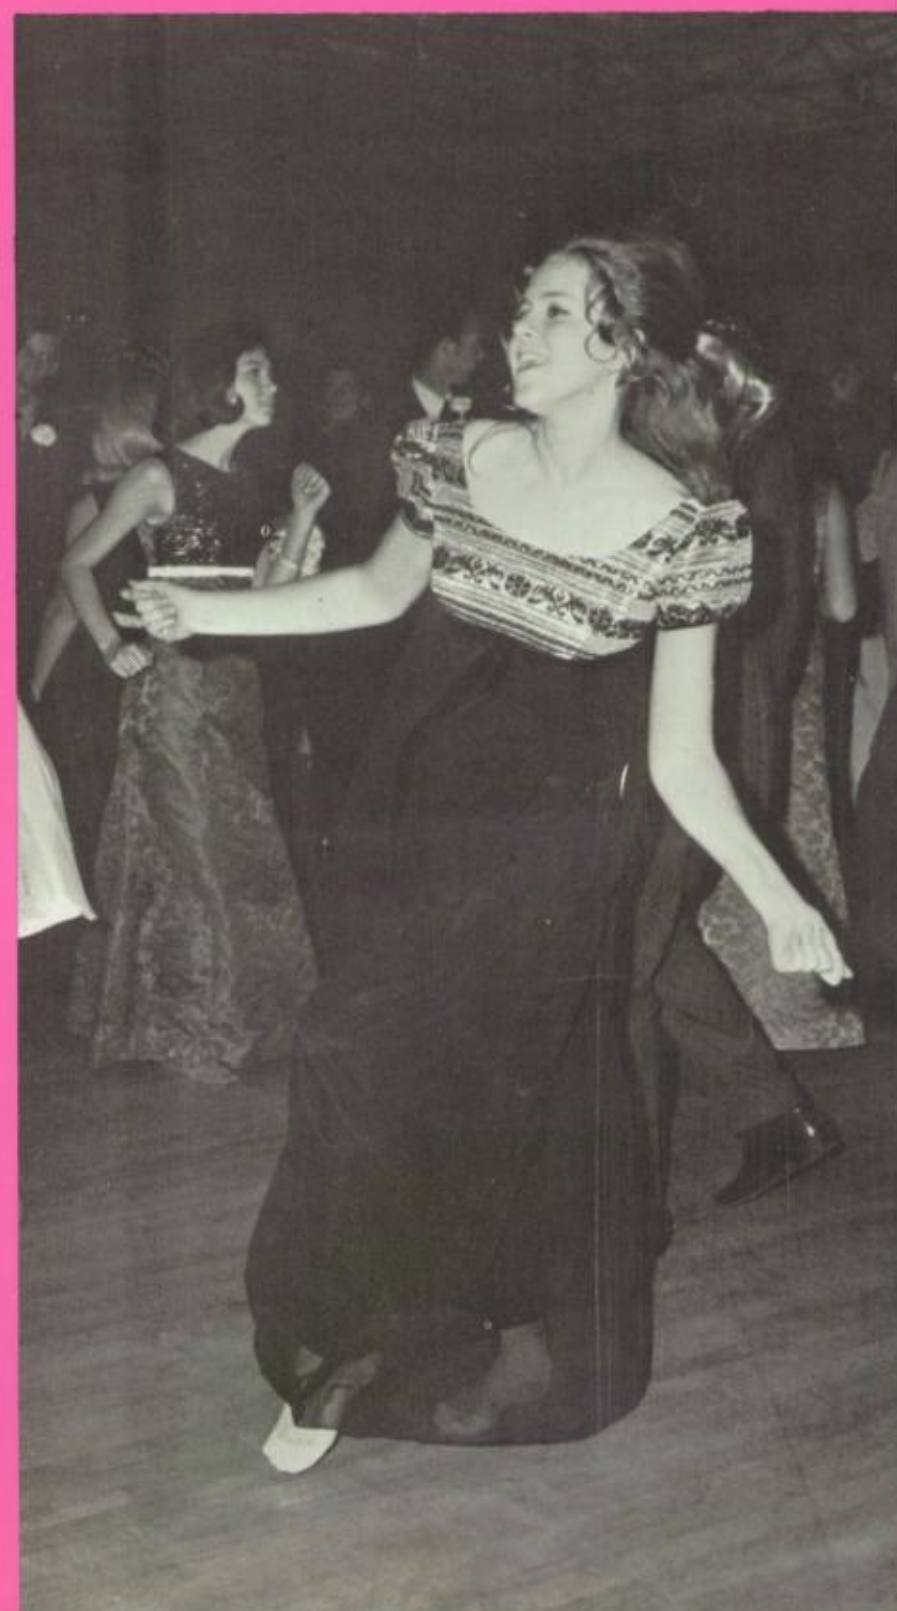

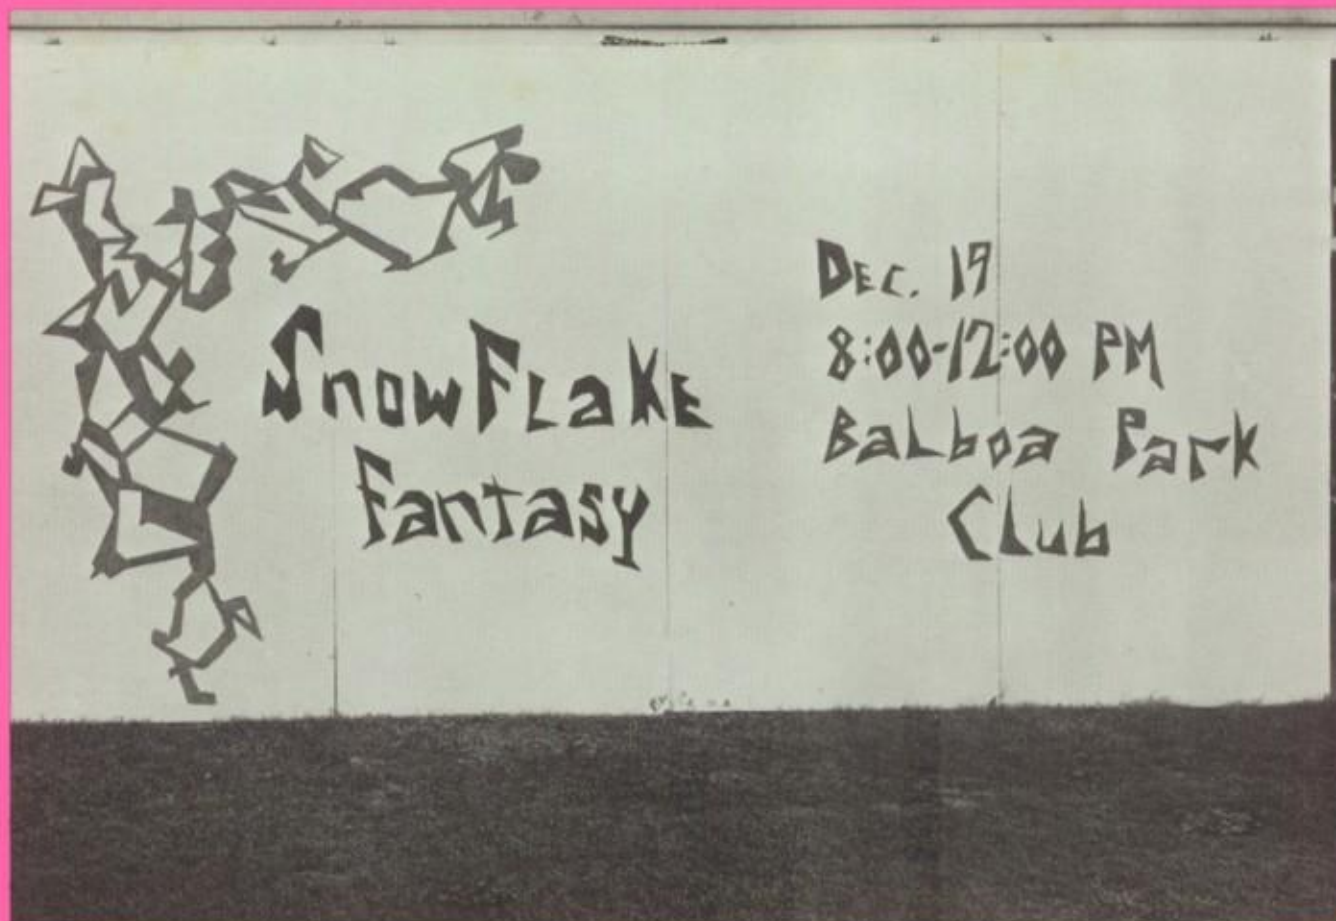

Sadie Hawkins

Madison's annual Sadie Hawkins dance, sponsored by the Girl's League, was held in March on Friday the 13th. The gym was transformed into Dogpatch U.S.A. with the couples dressed in Hillbilly attire. The dance was highlighted with the selection of Sally Strand as Daisey Mae and Pete Hollingsworth as Lil Abner. Sunny Langton and Pete Barker were selected as the best dressed couple. The funniest couple was Sherry Bain and Dale Erwin, and Charlie Burkart was awarded the title of Mr. Legs.

The 6th annual A.S.B. Ball was held December 19, 1969. The Balboa Park Club was transformed into a winter palace, completed by the music of the Pinkertones. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Chris Conley as queen. Her court consisted of Sue Foos, junior attendant and Sherry Mallery, sophomore attendant. They reigned over the memories of that evening.

Chris Shiraishi and Richard Todd.

R.O.T.C. BALL

San Diego's 1970 R.O.T.C. Ball was held at the Masonic Temple in Mission Valley on the evening of March 14th. This was the third year the queen, Chris Shiraishi, has represented Madison. Trina Brown, junior attendant, and Jeri Jamar, sophomore attendant, completed the court.

Advisors

From class changes to short day and lunch passes our MHS counselors are necessary to the effective management of the school.

For the countless hours spent in planning, advising and lending a sympathetic ear to all the problems and opinions of students, Madison counselors merit a warm and sincere thanks.

Mrs. Haskell

Mr. Markley

Mr. Nelson

Mrs. Patterson

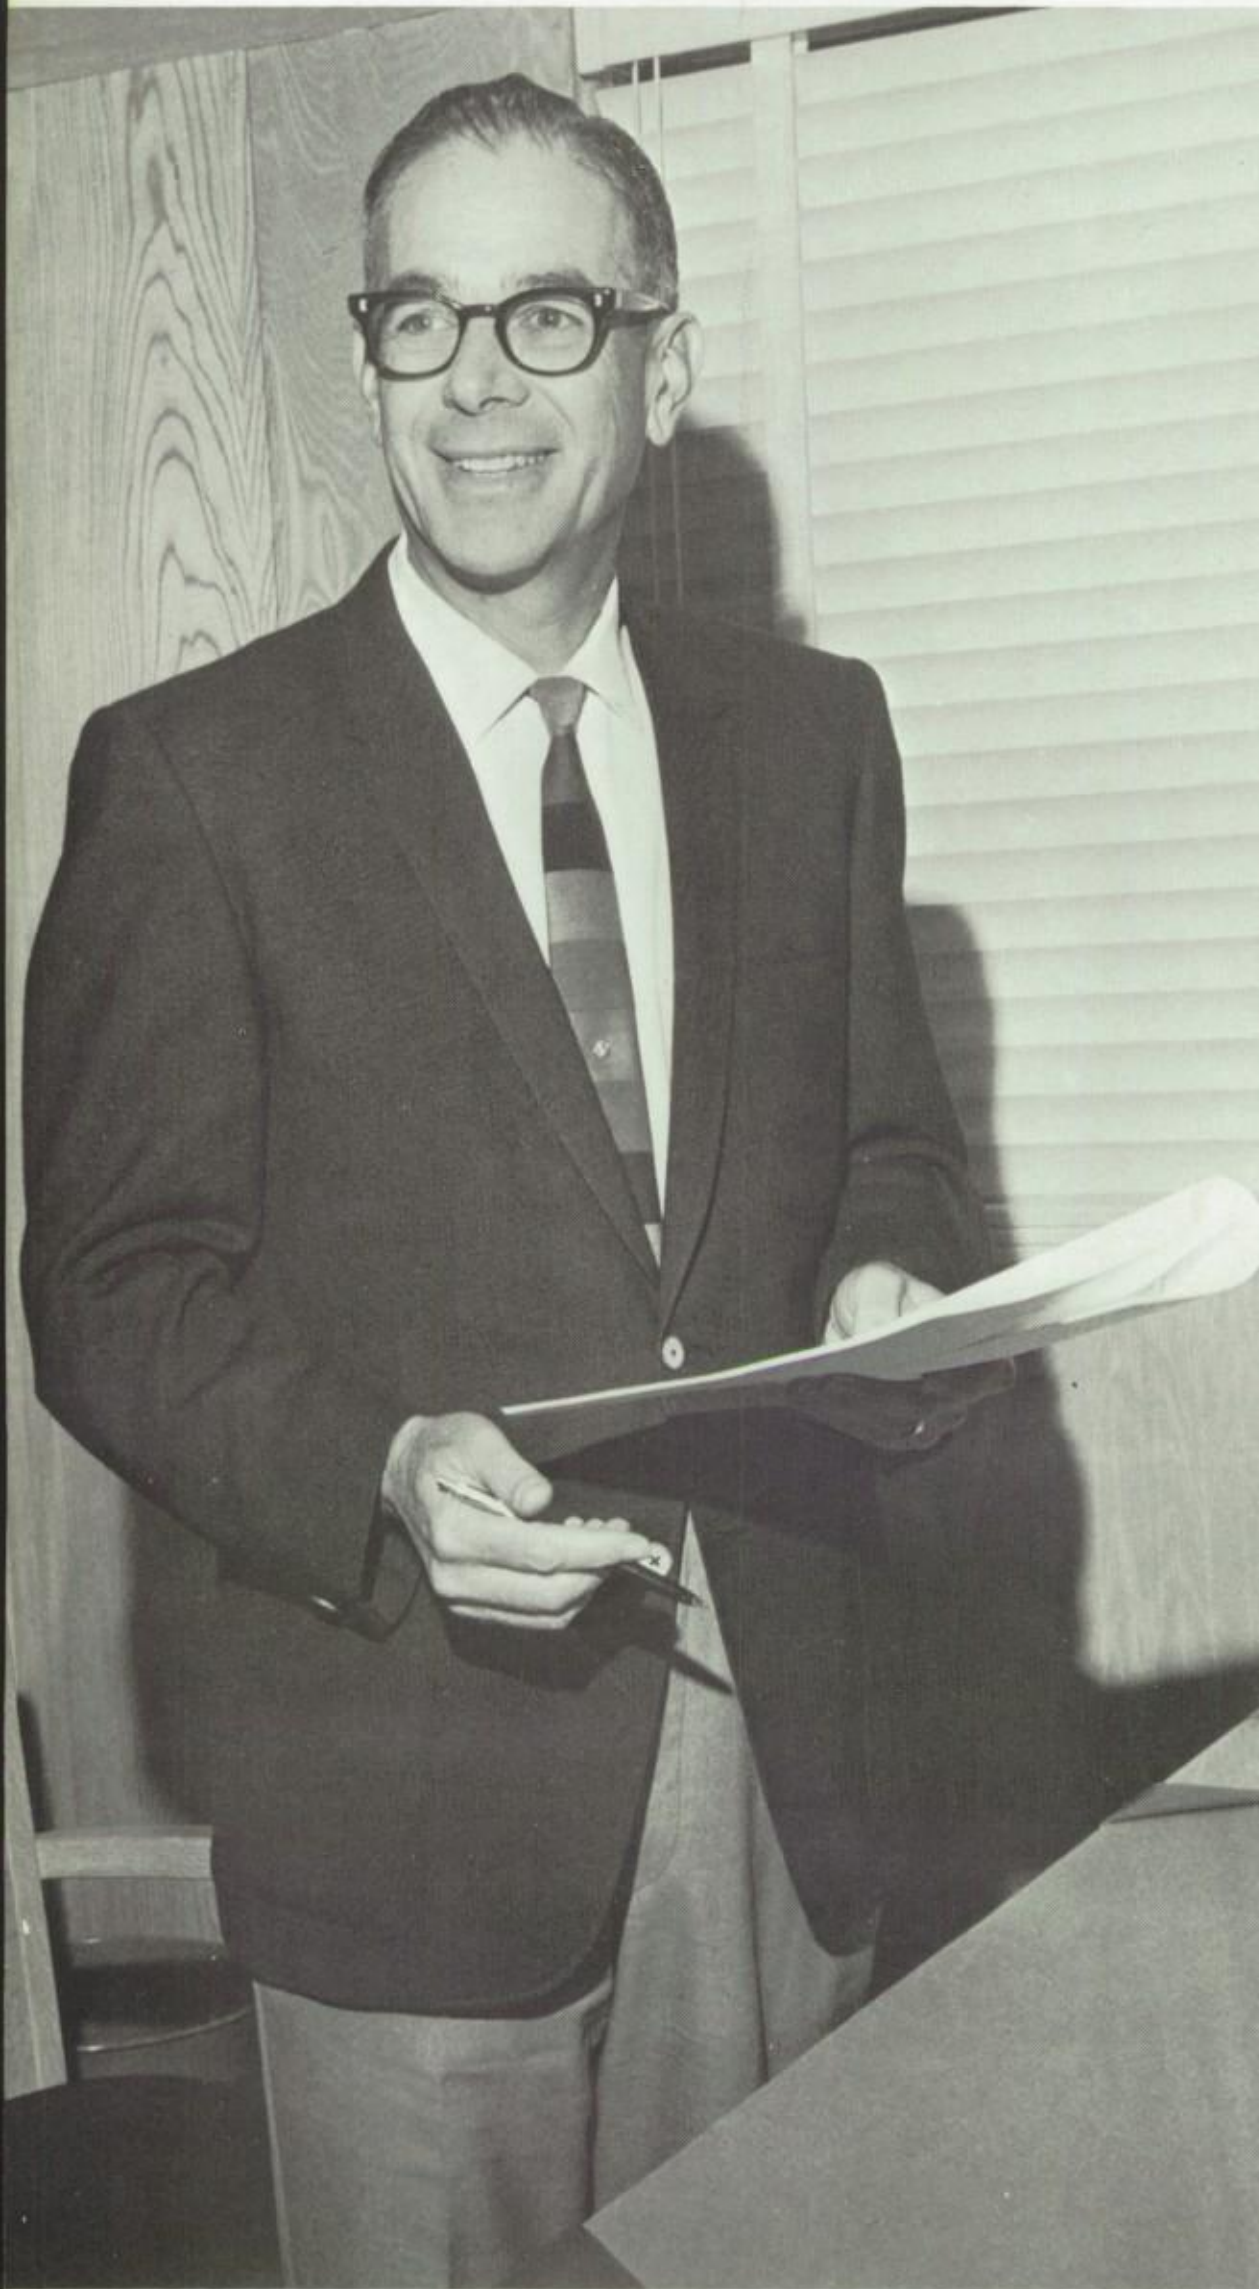

Principal

You are the members of the largest graduating class in the history of Madison High School. At the time of the writing of this message, there is every indication that this class will not only be the largest but also the most outstanding. The band, the choral groups, the drill team, and the members of the senior play have already participated in exceptional performances. Our Warhawk athletic teams have excellent records in both boys' and girls' competition. I sincerely hope that the record of achievements of the class of 1970 will inspire you to further individual achievements.

It is my wish to each of you that you succeed in whatever field you enter. It is my hope that by means of your individual accomplishments you will be in positions in which you can serve and will contribute to the betterment of your community, your city, your state, and your nation and world.

The institutions which are part of your heritage are worth preserving, but many are in need of modification and improvement. It is the hope of all members of the faculty that we have helped prepare you to bring about and participate in the changes and improvements which must lie ahead.

Three of the most familiar faces on campus are those of our vice-principals. This dedicated trio is always available whenever they're needed. Conferences with anxious parents or troubled students is only part of their job. It's also their responsibility to arrange social activities, set up schedules for special classes, and assist faculty members.

Because of the interested attitudes of the vice-principals, many students have come to know the office as a place where encouraging words can always be found.

Vice-Principals

Mr. Volz

Mr. Ruud, Staff Administrator

The staff workers at Madison are useful and beneficial not only to the faculty members, but also to the students. Each of them holds an important position in our school. Their presence is appreciated since this school could not operate without their aid. Mr. Ruud, a familiar face to most of us, administers many of the activities around campus.

Teacher Aides

Teacher assistants are essential to the process of education at Madison. As part of their own learning, these college students are given the opportunity to utilize their acquired skills in practical ways. They provide clerical help, supervision both inside and outside classroom, and according to their specialized fields, they are able to assist in actual class instruction and provide individual tutoring.

Advisor Mr. Newton

Since last June, the Prospectus staff has been working to produce the best yearbook Madison has ever seen. This job involves not only planning individual pages, but coordinating them to form an organized and entertaining book. The time spent by the staff working on the Prospectus extends into extra-curricular time as well as the one hour class period headed by Mr. Robert Newton, advisor, and Cindy Parks, editor. Each of the twenty staff members works in one of the following areas: art and layout, production planning, writing or photography, as well as working on one of the sections dealing with either seniors, underclass, curriculum or extra curriculum. This work, when combined with numerous other tasks, is an essential part of producing a superior yearbook.

The Talon

Providing communication between students at such a large school is an important task. Madison has been fortunate in having an efficient news media to keep the students well informed. The Talon kept an updated account of this past year's events and did this in a way that made it interesting, thus encouraging the involvement of students.

*Brian Ruark
Senior Class President*

The graduating class of 1970 has had a busy year. Under the guidance of Mr. Kelly, the class officers have helped to make the year an exciting one. The senior class sponsored dances, bake sales and conducted other money-making projects to make the Senior Prom successful. Other activities involving the senior class included the Powderpuff Game, the Senior Play, and the trike race. In addition to their enthusiasm in class activities the seniors excelled in many scholastic areas.

Penny Iodice
Junior Class President

This years' juniors have shown their enthusiasm by actively supporting organizations throughout the school as well as by taking part in class activities. The class officers, Penny Iodice, Joe Holden, Kaye Harmston, Maureen Johnston, and their sponsor, Mrs. Smith, have worked hard on projects including a dance, the Junior Prom, bake sales and a "Dot sale" to make this a successful year for the class of '71.

The official school year began on September 15 for most Madison students. By this date, the ASB executive council had already planned most of the year's activities. During the year, other activities were added to the school calendar through the continual efforts of the executive council. The council met daily to discuss issues such as open campus and beards and to coordinate and organize upcoming ASB activities.

Editor's Page:

*From sun to moon,
These days composed our year.
A segment of the road of life is traveled.
The path behind us strewn with doubt and fear;
wit and error now seen,
our past unraveled.*

*Flames of the future flicker beyond our sight.
Guessing at the fire, we form goals
and plan strategy
for coming labor, knowledge, friendship and delight.
We pray for guidance in our uncertainty.*

*For years, a sunrise of faith has taught us
to dream,
guiding us to where we are now, entering the peak of our ambition.
In our success we shall be the current of the stream.
Before sunset, to carry the torch of society is our mission.*

*The journey has obstacles, but our growing wisdom and kindness will conquer them yet.
With hope and determination,
"The walk of a thousand miles begins with one step."*

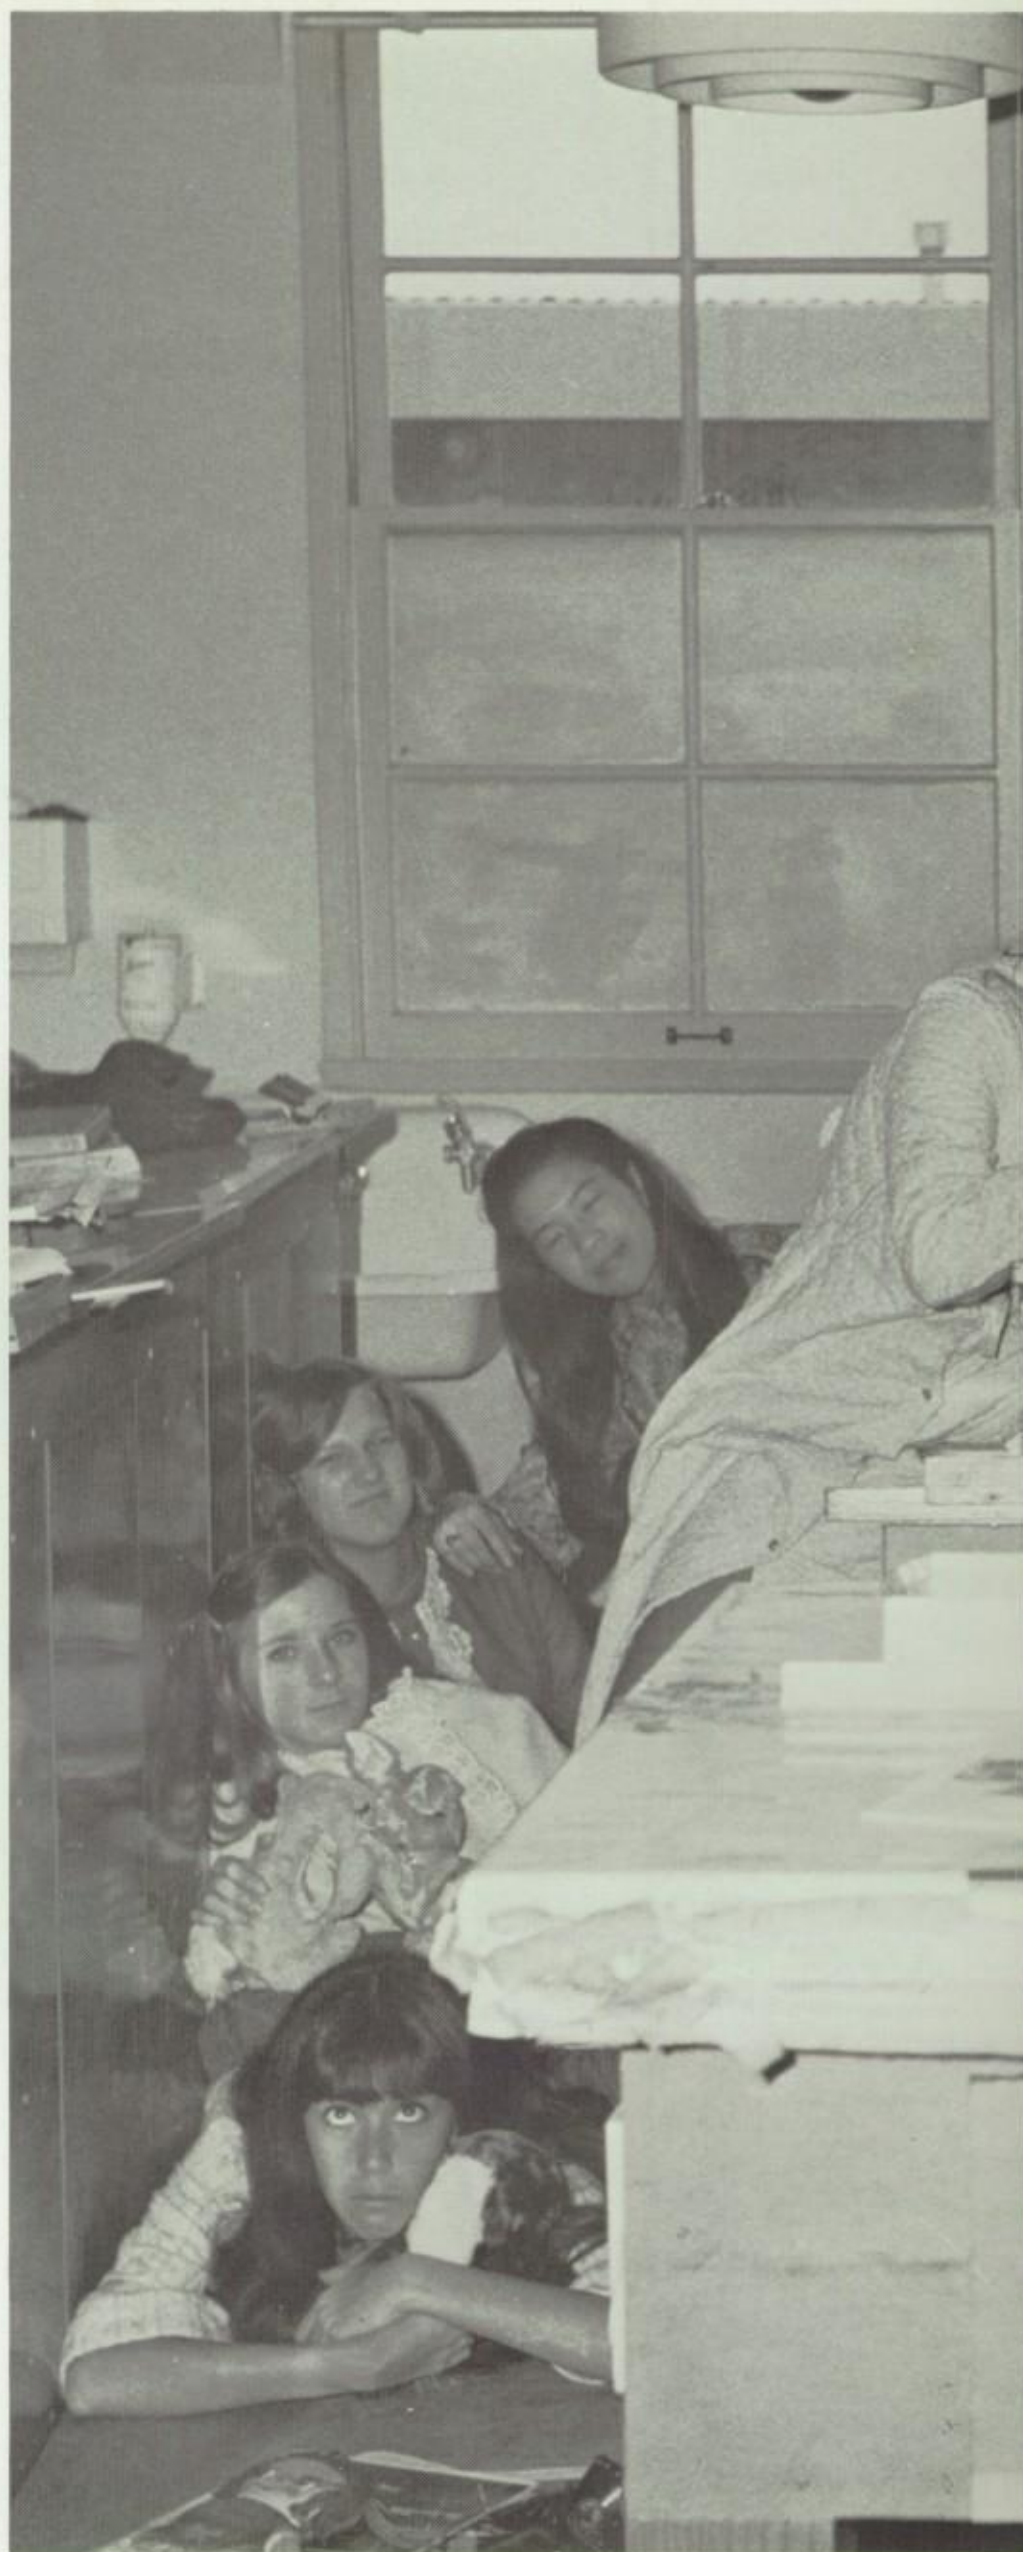

A special thanks to the Busco-Nestor Studio, Mr. Binkowski, Mrs. Marshall and all of the others who contributed to the production of this book.

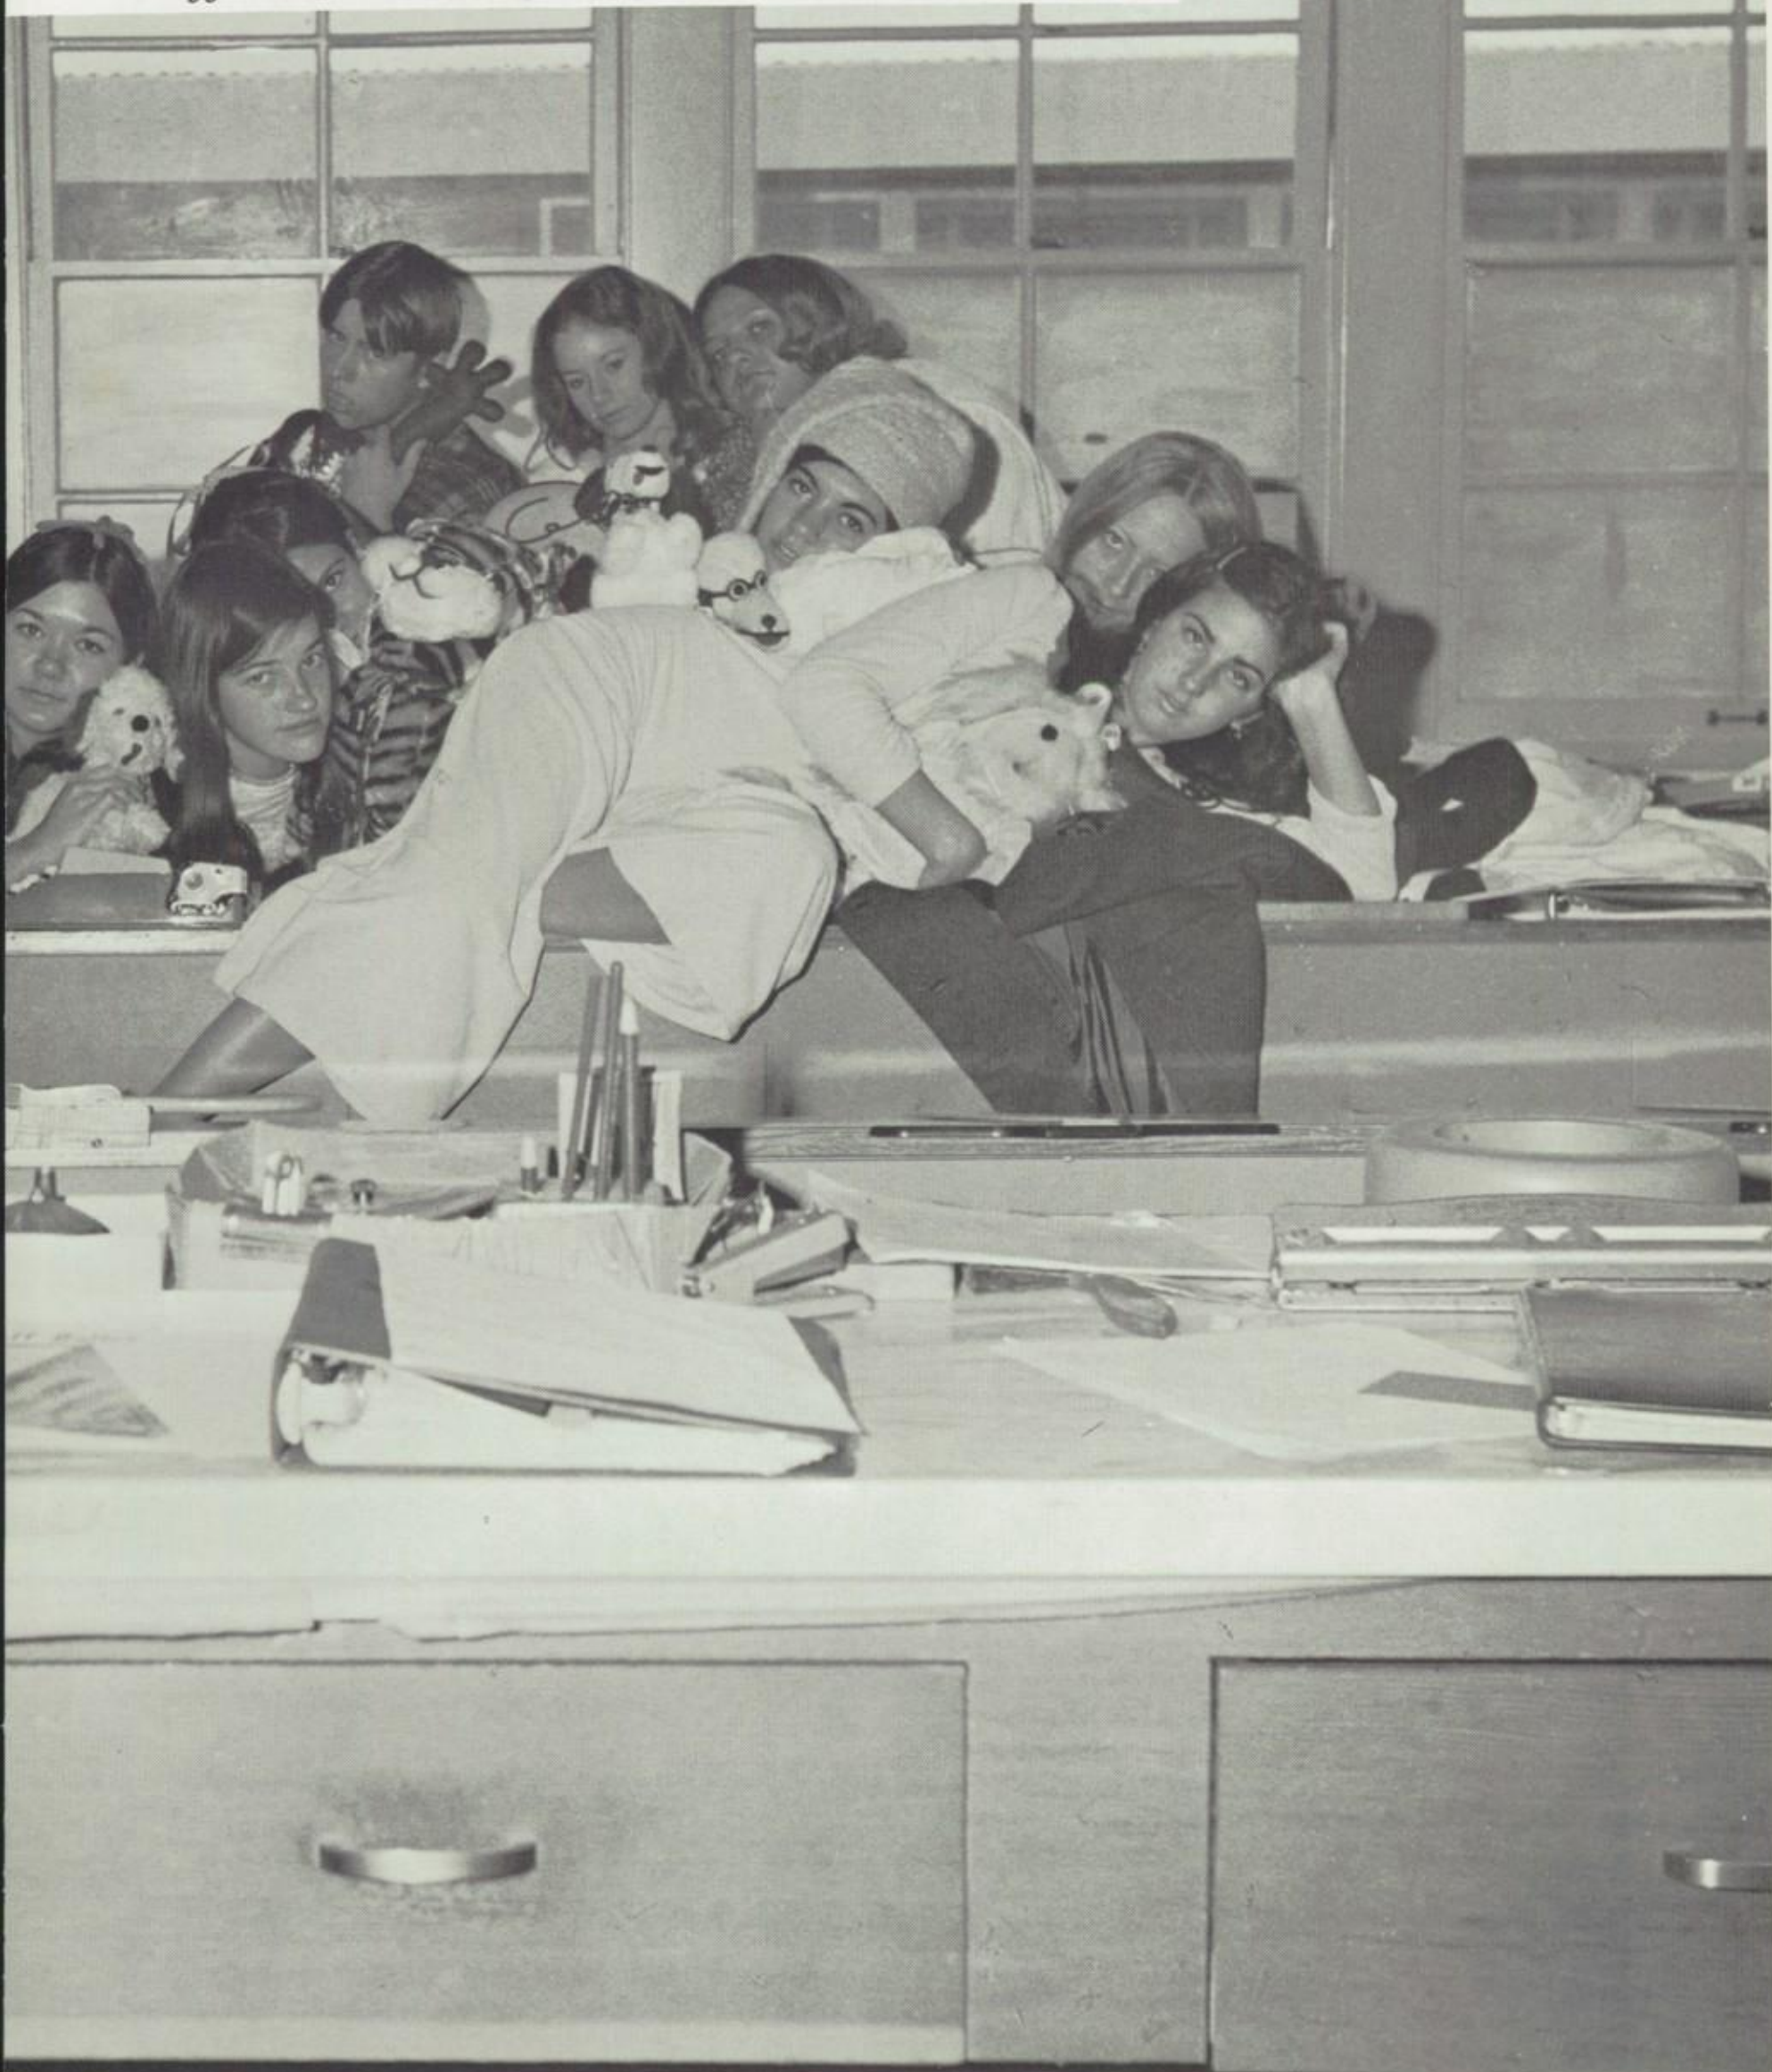

*From September fifteenth to June nineteenth,
we worked and waited.
Our day was ten months long.
The story of our day
is the book we created
with copy, paper and tears,
with photographs and smiles.
We worked hard; we had fun;
we learned a little more about us.
It was a real 1970 day.*

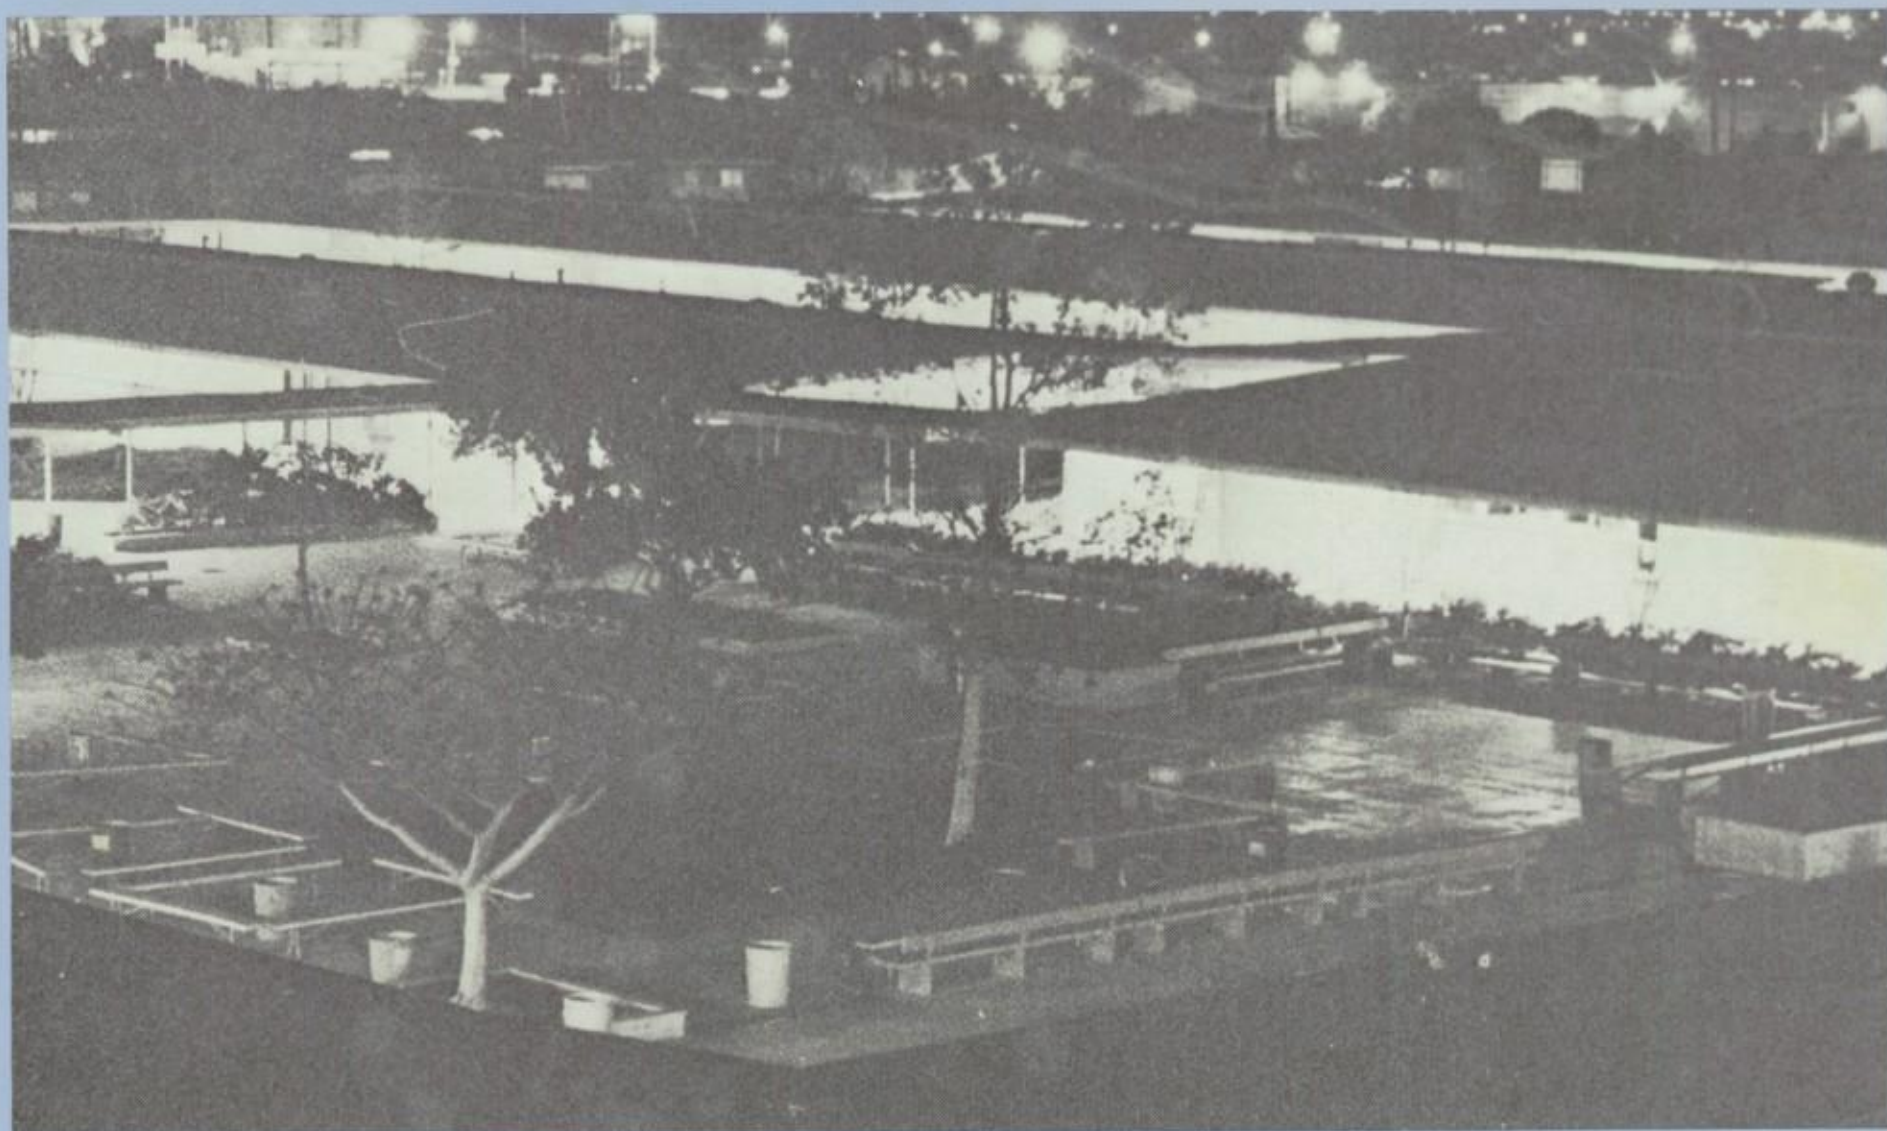

Prospectus Staff

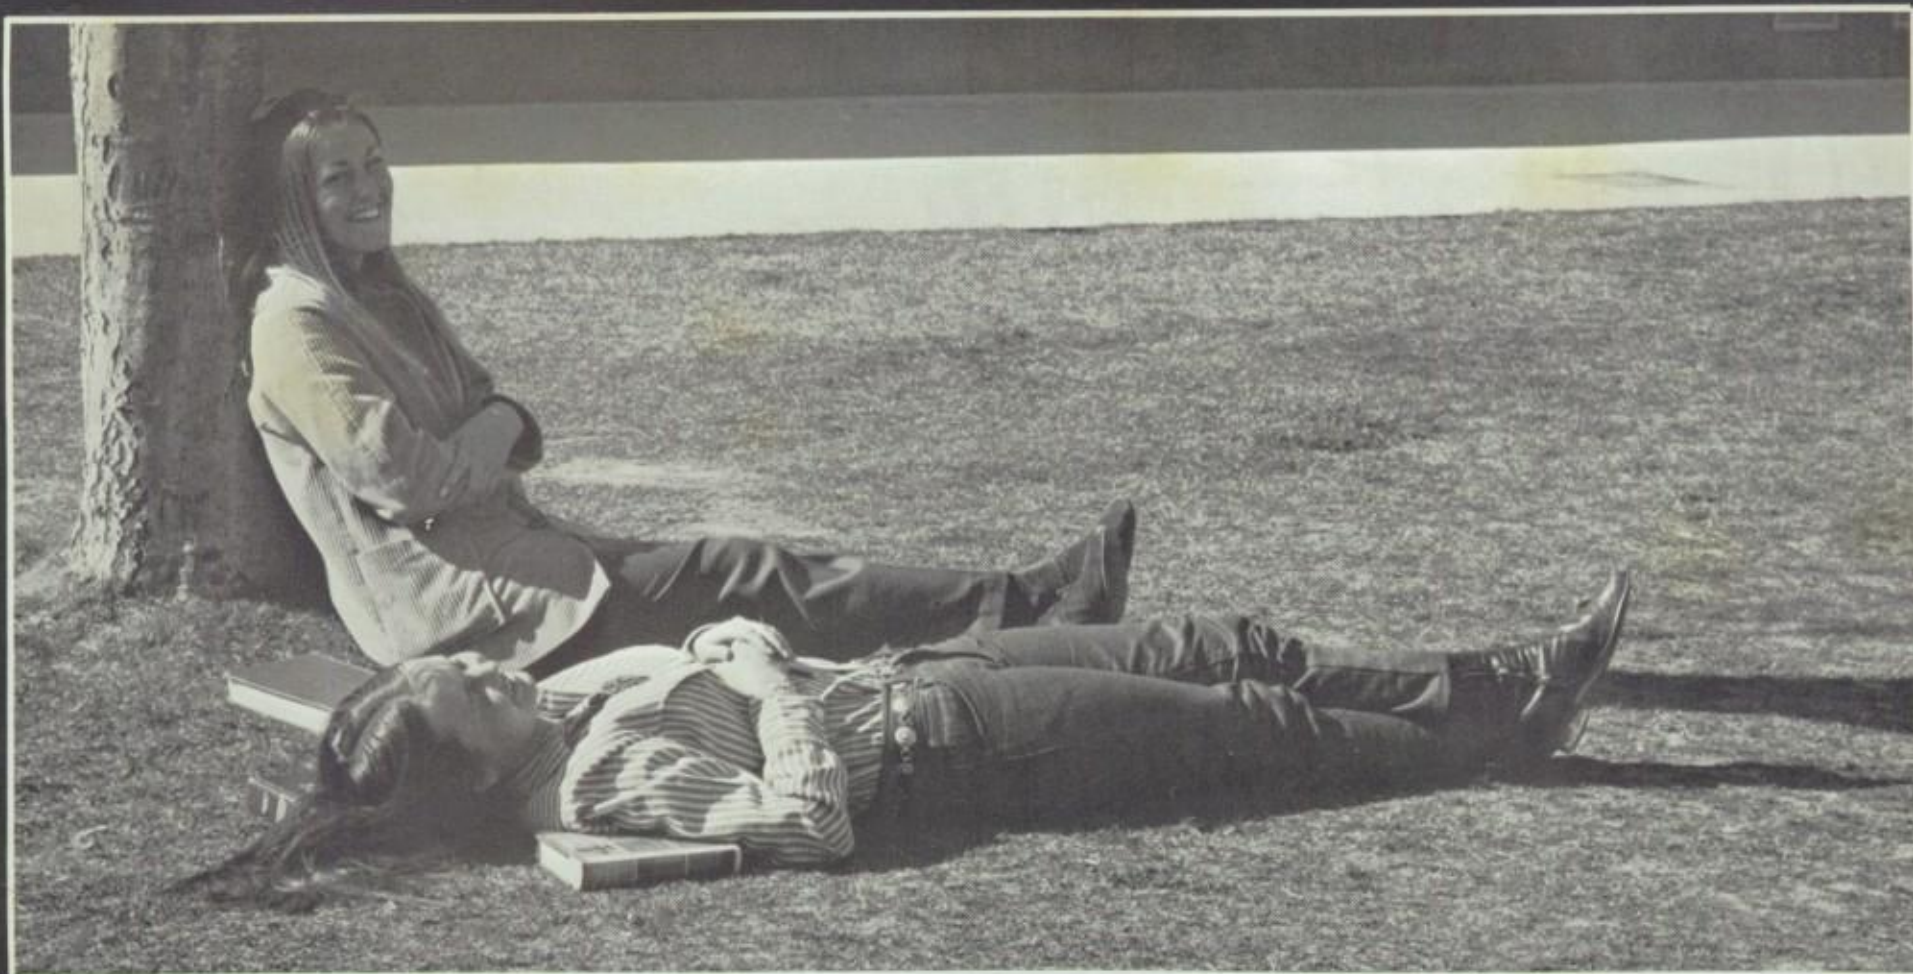

The Staff Said Goodnight To A 1970 Madison Day

Tomie,
Good! Start the well
here it goes - the none of the year. - I just can't find the words - Wow! of all times to be speechless! Gaby says himself ha!
The year is now coming to a close, but it's been a year well spent! I'll miss everything but yet ~~there's~~ have a future to live yet. My memories will always be fond memories - when I look back on our beautiful friendship! Just this year that I've known you seems like I've known you for years...
your such a beautiful girl - and yet being such a beautiful girl inside... How do ya manage?
You made to Senior Math like Disneyland you know what I mean... Your gonna have wonderful future I know it. even if I have to marry you, which I would I'd love to. Just remember when your feeling low and out - Jesus is the best friend you have.

May God Bless
You & Keep You
Love Always
Ron Truse
